Structural Racism

“A system in which public policies, institutional practices, cultural representations and other norms work in various, often reinforcing ways to perpetuate racial group inequity.”

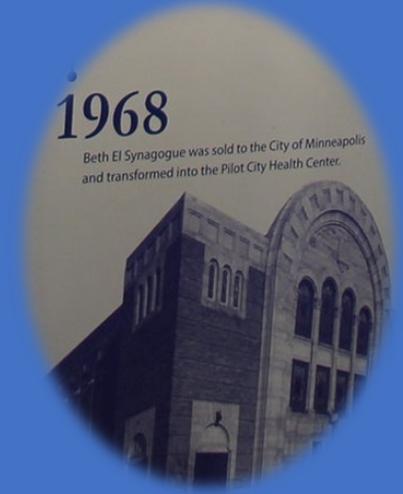

The Aspen Institute

“How to use Futurism to Save the World...to change what you do today to make tomorrow better”

author: Trista Harris

What are we doing today to reduce the impact of structural racism in the future?

- Creating access to quality, low-cost and culturally responsive health services
- Investing in technology and data to ensure healthcare is accessible
- Forming value-based care models and networks
- Employing and training diverse workforce that reflects the community
- Partnership with Hennepin County

History of government and race

Initially explicit

Government explicitly creates and maintains racial inequity.

Becomes implicit

Discrimination illegal, but "race-neutral" policies and practices perpetuate inequity.

Government for racial equity

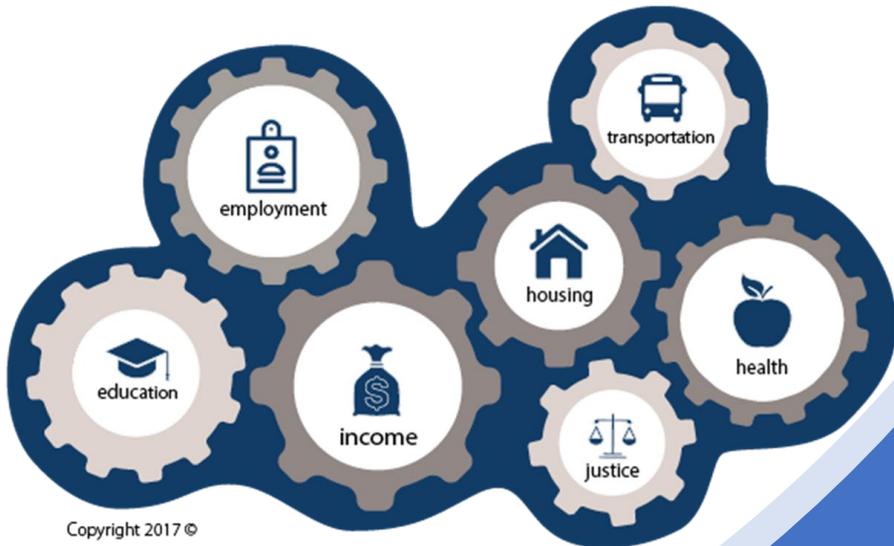

Proactive policies, practices and procedures that advance racial equity.
